

STAMPED FROM THE BEGINNING

— Book Tour —

Albany Law School | Sep 8th | 4pm | Room 200

Book Talk & Signing

“Engrossing and relentless....The greatest service Kendi [provides] is the ruthless prosecution of American ideas about race for their tensions, contradictions and unintended consequences.”

—The Washington Post

“Ambitious, magisterial”

—Kirkus, starred review

“Must for serious readers of American history, politics, or social thought”

—Library Journal

“Heavily researched yet easily readable”

—Booklist

“Understanding this history is essential if we want to have any hope of progress. This book will forever change the way we think about race.”

—Touré, MSNBC contributor and author of Who's Afraid of Post-Blackness

@DRIBRAM

IBRAM.ORG

#STAMPED

Ibram X. Kendi is an assistant professor of African American history at the University of Florida. He also authored The Black Campus Movement and has written op-eds for Salon, The Huffington Post, and The Chronicle of Higher Education, among other venues.

