SCHOLARSHIPS, LOANS & FEDERAL ASSISTANCE FOR J.D. STUDENTS

MERIT SCHOLARSHIPS

Awarded by the Admissions Committee based on the strength of admissions application. (No separate scholarship application required.)

Award is prorated for those who elect the four-year program.

Half of the annual amount is credited toward the tuition bill each semester for up to six full-time (or eight part-time) semesters. Note: A third of the annual amount is credited toward the tuition bill each semester for students in the accelerated (two-year) and Flex J.D. programs.

This award is guaranteed at Albany Law School and is automatically renewed as long as the student remains in good standing.

SUNY LEGAL FELLOWSHIP (Only for JD Students)

All graduates awarded either a Bachelor’s or Graduate degree from any SUNY Institution that enroll at Albany Law School are guaranteed a scholarship through our SUNY Legal Fellowship, as long as they are admitted by June 1. Qualified students admitted after June 1 may still be considered.

For students entering in 2024, the guaranteed minimum scholarship award is $20,000 per academic year. This award is guaranteed at Albany Law School and is automatically renewed as long as the student remains in good standing.

For applicants choosing the four-year program, pro rata adjustments will be made to the scholarship.

Every applicant is automatically considered for all available merit-based scholarship awards at the time of their acceptance. Any SUNY graduate that qualifies for a larger merit award will receive that award in place of the SUNY Legal Fellowship.

FELLOWSHIPS

There are numerous fellowships available to students with a variety of stipend levels and time commitments.

For example, the President’s International Law Fellowship offers the student a stipend and an automatic international placement; the The Edgar and Margaret Sandman Fellowship is awarded to a second-year student who, with a stipend, spends a full year at the Government Law Center conducting research which culminates in authorship of a major study and development of a statewide forum.
